

Interested in using video in your courses,
but don't want to hassle with microphones, webcams, or software?

Need to record a video project for class,
and you want to make sure it looks professional?

Come try the all new,
do-it-yourself...

The all new One Button Studio, located in the Jackson Library at Indiana Wesleyan University, is a simplified video recording studio that can be used without any previous video production experience. The design of the studio allows you to create high-quality and easy video projects without having to know anything about lights and cameras.

You only need to bring your flash drive with you and push a single button.
